9. Event Description

Written in the format of a newsletter article.

Members and friends of SWE enjoyed an afternoon of homemade ice cream while networking and critiquing resumes. Several of those attending were currently unemployed or looking to make a job change and enjoyed the opportunity to make new connections. A local search professional, Jim Kemper, President of W.H. Meanor & Associates, joined the group to offer his insights into the current job market and advise the participants on their resumes and interview strategies.

10. Lessons Learned

Things that went well and things that we could do better next time.

I made way too much ice cream. The "insurance business" opportunity presented by an attendee was not typical for one of our events and was presented unexpectedly by her two guests.
